

First events up and running within weeks

Family Entertainment Company

A company in the entertainment industry wanted their procurement functions to go from good to great. They already had a P2P platform in place, but needed it to complement its other eSourcing tools. Ease of use, efficiency, implementation speed, functionality, and support were top priorities.

After going through a rigorous process of competitive market review, supplier due diligence, reference inquiries, and trial events, Unit4 Source-to-Contract by Scanmarket (S2C) was selected because of the system’s efficiency, user-friendliness, and quality of service. “The implementation process was surprisingly easy, and we were up and running our first events in a matter of weeks,” said the company’s eSourcing Manager.

Result

A company in the entertainment industry is now expanding their use of eSourcing throughout the organization and into other countries. Their diversity of spend is broader than ever, and the types of events running are expanding from the simplest of RFIs to the most complex, each time with great results.

Challenges

Move procurement functions from good to great.

“We wanted to ensure that we had the best eSourcing tool for our business. Ease of use, efficiency, speed of implementation, depth of functionality, support – these elements were absolutely crucial; the benefits of having a one-stop solution were a distant second.”
